

AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

1. (Currently Amended) A cosmetic handle comprising:

a substantially hollow transparent member; and a substantially transparent receptacle member ~~adapted to house~~ housing a display pattern, said receptacle being structured to enable it to be inserted into the substantially hollow transparent member to enable the display pattern to be visible at, at least two sides of the ~~handle~~ handle, said substantially hollow transparent member containing an oil, whereby the display pattern is visible through an oil interface.

Claim 2 (Cancelled)

3. (Currently Amended) The cosmetic handle of claim 1, wherein the substantially hollow transparent member is a handle ~~handle~~ is provided at one end thereof with a brush.

4. (Previously Presented) The cosmetic handle of claim 1, wherein the transparent receptacle is sealed within the hollow transparent member by adhesives.

5. (Previously Presented) A cosmetic handle comprising a substantially hollow transparent member containing an oil, and a display pattern suspended and permitted to move freely within the oil, creating constant movement of the display pattern therein, whereby the display pattern is visible through an oil interface.